

SITHFAB201 Provide Responsible Service of Alcohol

COURSE INFORMATION

Description

This course is designed to meet the industry endorsed credential for people who are currently working or wishing to work in an appropriate hospitality role. This course meets the requirements of the NSW Office of Liquor, Gaming & Racing and on successful completion students may apply for their Competency Card.

Course duration

7 Hrs face to face delivery.

Accreditation

This Unit of competency is taken from the SIT12 Hospitality Training Package, release 2.0 and is placed at Certificate II on the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Transition arrangement

Students are advised, should they wish to apply for recognition of current competency from a previously endorsed training package to the latest version, the following rules apply:

- a) If a unit is equivalent: we advise the student that we will issue them with a Statement of Attainment for the new unit once it is approved for CMAA's Scope of Registration.
- b) If a unit is not equivalent: we will notify and provide further tuition and / or assessment free of charge to address any gap in training and / or assessment. Upon completion we will issue a Statement of Attainment once approved on the CMAA's scope of registration.

Eligibility/entry requirements

This is a theory based course and assessment tasks are simulated work focused, therefore learners can be working in an appropriate hospitality role in industry or gaining accreditation to secure employment. This unit of competency has no Pre-Requisites.

Literacy Language and Numeracy and Reasonable Adjustment

In circumstances where it is considered that a learner's language, literacy or numeracy skills may not be at the required level, the RTO Manager is to be contacted to determine whether a learner needs assistance.

For further information, please go to our web site at: <http://www.cmaa.asn.au/default.aspx?id=102>.

Delivery mode

This course is to be delivered over 7 hours (as stipulated by OLGR), face to face delivery

Program content

This course is designed to address the performance criteria, skills and knowledge, as well as critical aspects of assessment set out by the Unit of Competency with the expectation that the skills and knowledge obtained from this course will assist those who wish to work, or are currently working within the hospitality industry in the capacity of serving alcohol

Assessment

Assessment of competency is via exam, case study and role plays.

Students will be granted the opportunity of 1 re-submission of assessment tasks, free of charge, should they be found to be Not Yet Competent. Any further resubmissions will incur a fee.

Recognition of prior learning

Students are able to apply for recognition of prior learning for this unit of competency.

However this Statement of Attainment (if granted), will not meet the necessary Competency Card requirements by NSW OLGR to work with alcohol

For further information, please go to our web site at: <http://www.cmaa.asn.au/default.aspx?id=167>

Credit transfer

Credit transfer is available upon request and appropriate documentation must be supplied. However, if granted, this will not meet the necessary Competency Card requirements by NSW OLGR to work in alcohol supplying venues unless a bridging course is undertaken.

Entry/exit points

There is no entry or exit point in this Unit of Competency as it is delivered as a standalone unit.

Resources

Students are issued with a Student workbook, handouts and supporting material throughout the course. The Student Workbook used is provided by the NSW Office of Liquor, Gaming & Racing.

Career pathways

This Unit of Competency forms part of the SIT20213 Certificate II in Hospitality.
